

“Venerable Servant of God”

The Father McGivney Trail is located on the campus of St. Joseph's Youth Camp. This trail is connected to the historic Arizona Trail and connects four distinct areas of the camp. Each area has a specific theme and use. It will be phased in the following order:

Phase One– Flagpole- “Patriotism”

Phase Two– Picnic Area- “Christian Family Life”

Phase Three-Campfire Hearth-“Apostle to the Young”

Phase Four– Stations of the Cross- “Life of Prayer”

Father Michael J. McGivney, Patron of the Knights of Columbus

The Father McGivney Trail turns sharply east off the Arizona Trail, gently sloping down the side of Mormon Mountain. While descending along this historic trail, pilgrims encounter the four phases of the project connecting the Father McGivney Trail to the heart of Saint Joseph's Youth Camp.

Choose your place along the Father McGivney Trail and purchase a historic brick. Brick locations may be placed in one or more of our four phases of development.

Establish an enduring display of your support and your appreciation for the role of St. Joseph's Youth Camp and the Arizona Knights of Columbus.

The Arizona Trail

The Arizona Trail was developed to emphasize the wide range of ecological diversity in the state and to link public lands, mountain ranges, and other special places (SJYC). In addition, the corridor was selected to maximize the incorporation of already existing trails into one continuous trail.

The Arizona trail begins at the Coronado National Memorial on the US-Mexico border and ends within the Bureau of Land Management's Arizona Strip District on the Utah border. In between, the trail winds through some of the most rugged and spectacular scenery in Western America.
